Meralco, recognized for excellence in corporate governance at the 2016 PSE Bell Awards

Meralco was recognized as among the top ten companies in the country for excellence in corporate governance at the 2016 Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) Bell Awards held on November 10 at the Makati Diamond Residences. Meralco was also honored as one of the Top 10 Publicly-Listed Companies in 2013 and 2015 among more than 260 listed companies in the country.

The PSE launched the Bell Awards in 2012 to give due distinction to publicly listed companies and trading participants that have excellent corporate governance programs and practices.

An independent panel of judges was formed by the PSE to deliberate on the merits of the corporate governance profiles and achievements of listed companies. This year's panel of judges included Securities and Exchange Commission Chair Teresita Herbosa, Capital Markets Integrity Corp. President Cornelio Gison, Australian Ambassador to the Philippines Amanda Gorely, Asian Institute of Management President Jikyeong Kang and Ateneo de Manila University President Jose Ramon Villarin S.J. The screening process looked at listed companies' compliance with the PSE's corporate governance guidelines and compliance with relevant rules and regulations.

This recognition is a testament to Meralco's commitment to strengthening its culture of good governance and responsible management practices.
