Annex A

Assumptions:

Amount of Meter Deposit (MD):	Php 1,000.00
Date of Deposit :	September 22, 1994
Date of Start of refund :	September 22, 2008
Type of Customer :	Residential

A. To determine the accrued interest for the meter deposit we use the formula
 $MDAI = AI_{1i} + AI_{2i} + AI_{3i}$

Where:

1.  $AI_{1i}$  is computed as follows:

$$\text{Php}1000 \times 6\% \times 365/365 = \text{Php } 60.00$$

2.  $AI_{2i}$  is computed as follows:

$$\text{Php}1000 \times 10\% \times 3,291/365 = \text{Php } 901.64$$

3.  $AI_{3i}$  is computed as follows:

$$\text{Php}1000 \times 6\% \times 1,455/365 = \text{Php } 239.98$$

Accordingly, MDAI is equal to Php1,200.82

B. On the other hand, the total amount for refund is computed using the formula
 $MD + MDAI$ , thus:

$$\text{Php}1000.00 + \text{Php}1,200.82 = \text{Php}2,200.82$$
